

Kybun® Footpad

For the office environment which encourages standing as a healthy and comfortable alternative work posture.

It's time for today's computer-tethered office workers to rise up and take a stand on behalf of better ergonomics. Time to add movement to help counteract chronic health issues that result from our sedentary work styles.

Research shows that adding some simple movement will:

- Increase blood flow throughout the body and help remove toxins
- Increase the amount of oxygen in the brain to enhance focus, alertness and sense of well being
- Help burn calories and increase metabolism to heighten energy
